

Future
Skills
Centre

Centre des
Compétences
futures

Home |
[Innovation
Projects](#) | Project

Capturing change in Indigenous labour markets

Partners

The Sir Sandford Fleming College of Applied Arts and Technology

Participants Indigenous Peoples

Locations

Ontario

Topics

Inclusive Economy

Related Tags

indigenous,
indigenous populations,
job matching,
shock-proofing, training

This project will develop and test a novel solution to document and respond to changes as they happen in Indigenous labour markets in order to enhance participation among Indigenous peoples.

Fleming
College
sits
on
the traditional territory
of
the
Michi
Sagiig
Anishnaabe,
governed
by
the
Williams
Treaty.
The
college
honours
the
land
itself
and
the
people
who have stewarded
it
through
the
generations.
COVID-
19
has significantly
altered
the
landscape
for
students,
graduates,
and
the
economic situation
of
all
communities
with
the
full
extent
of
the impact
still
unknown.
Fleming,
in partnership
with
MDB
Insight
and
Vicinity

Jobs, will leverage collective expertise to develop and test a solution to document real-time changes in Indigenous labour markets.

Evaluation Report: Change in Indigenous Labour Markets Evaluation Report

Download Report ▶

Future Skills Centre is investing $218,437.32 in this 1-year project. This initiative will engage with Indigenous communities to better understand labour market needs, develop and test a novel Indigenous labour market system to identify trends and inform programming, and share best practices and learning with the postsecondary sector and labour market experts to move the Indigenous agenda forward on a national scale.

This initiative signifies the Fleming's commitment to fortifying relationships with Indigenous communities while ensuring that graduates are equipped with Indigenous knowledge to prepare them for successful labour market participation.

Evaluation Strategy

This project is evaluated using tools and approaches aligned with its goals, context, and stage of development. The evaluation focuses on generating the right evidence at the right moment to move the intervention forward. Read more about our evaluation strategy.

The Future Skills Centre acknowledges that the Anishinaabe, Mississaugas and Haudenosaunee share a special relationship to the 'Dish With One Spoon Territory,' where our office is located, bound to share and protect the land. As a pan-Canadian initiative, FSC operates on the traditional territory of many Indigenous nations across Turtle Island, the name given to the North American continent by some Indigenous peoples. We are grateful for the opportunity to work in this territory and commit ourselves to learning about our shared history and doing our part towards reconciliation.